

Gentlemen: Please reconsider the issues involved in allowing the transmission of internet signals over commercial power lines. The interference it generates will be just one more battle the ham radio community will have to enter into to prove that we are the ones being interfered with, while those who profit from this venture continue to buy the lobbyist for their cause that we cannot afford. You will inadvertently destroy a great resource in time of need besides a hobby of great enjoyment for those who partake. Please leave our current bandwidth intact and free from commercial interference.

Thank you for listening - Sincerely, Bruce Bodine - KA0MLA
